

A close-up photograph of a dark-colored fabric, likely a textile, featuring a prominent, repeating chevron or zigzag pattern. The pattern is formed by light-colored, possibly white or light gray, threads or dyes that create a series of sharp, V-shaped peaks and valleys across the entire surface. The background fabric is a deep charcoal or black color. The texture of the fabric appears slightly grainy, and the lighting is even, highlighting the contrast between the dark background and the light pattern.
